

I can't raise him in here.

It's not good for him!

I had little to no memories when I was a child

You're the second in command, we need you here, Miss Cole.

Can't you assign a new guardian for him?

No, Nobody knows what Crush is like.

I need to be with him to monitor him, anything is a potential trigger.

That child. He's seen some bad bad stuff.

The house we rescued him from. It was horrific.

But from a young age

If you ask him for an Out, he'll station you outside of HQ..

Maybe you should do that..?

It's worth a try..

I knew something was wrong with me.

Wow, How many times have you switched schools already?

Like. four. This is the fifth time, but we're moving so far away..

Jesus, what's wrong with you?

I don't fucking know, Mae..

It's like I can't control my strength.

He threw a single punch, then next thing I knew, his neck was broken.

As soon as I drew blood, all of my reasoning kind of went out the window.

So you went into a blind rage..?

Kinda.. But I was still aware..

Like something went loose inside of me..

They call me violent, they think I have anger issues or something..

But I didn't even do it out of pleasure or anything .. I just did it because I could, and I was good at it.

It's like a drug.. The power that surges through me when I strike back..

The fear in their eyes when I crush them like bugs.. There's nothing like it!!

Okay, So what I'm hearing is that you need a new hobby.

You can't just send people to the hospital, even if they started it!

There's literally no schools in this city that'll take you, why do you think your mom's moving you all the way to Dan city??

Ugh.. But fighting is all I've ever known.

I know, but what if..

What if there's a way to channel this into something positive..?

Eh.. Like what?

Something to keep your hands busy!!

What about arts and crafts?? I can teach you how to knit!!

Arts and crafts..? But my mom hates it when I bring trinkets home..

Then give it to SOMEONE, I don't care!

You have like three years left before you can join the Syndicate!!

Can't you just BE good??

Be good?

It's a little too late for that now..

Haha..

Isn't it?
